Governors See President Race As "Wide Open"

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., June 23 (P)—Democratic and Republican governors, gathering here for their 49th annual conference, agreed today that the field is "wide open" for the two parties' 1960 presidential nominations.

Republican Gov. William Stratton of Illinois said many of those now prominently mentioned may not even be in the running three years from now. He conceded, however, that Vice President Nixon is a "leading" candidate.

Stratton, another Republican and two Democrats who may figure in the 1960 struggle for the nominations, paraded before reporters in a series of news conferences.

Demos Split On Civil Rights

Questioning disclosed the Democrats at odds over civil rights and the Republicans differing over some aspects of President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan declared that his party will have to take a "firm stand" in favor of civil rights if it hopes to win in 1960.

Democratic Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee said, on the other hand, that no single issue — and particularly civil rights — will decide the next presidential contest. He said Democrats will be together on foreign affairs, against the GOP "tight money" policy and for more aid to the farmers.

Knight Backs Ike All The Way

Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California said if a "modern Republican" is "one who supports the President," then he — Knight — is one. Knight said that meant Eisenhower's full program.

Stratton of Illinois said he regards himself as a "modern Republican" and a "progressive" governor. But he said he is "strongly opposed" to Eisenhower's school construction aid proposals.

Stratton said it was "100 far ahead" to talk about GOP presidential candidates, a view Knight shared. Knight said, however, if Eisenhower feels it would benefit the GOP and the country, the President ought to pick a candidate for the nomination.

Japan Premier Real Yank Fan

NEW YORK, June 23 (P)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi of Japan tossed diplomatic dignity aside today and thoroughly enjoyed the role of a New York Yankees' baseball fan.

He donned a cap provided by Yankee Manager Casey Stengel and applauded and cheered as the American League-leading Yankees overcame the second-place Chicago White Sox, 9-2 in the first game of a doubleheader at Yankee Stadium.

Kishi sat next to Mrs. Edna Stengel, Casey's wife. They chatted and laughed as everything went right for the Yankees.

Before the game started, Al Lopez, the White Sox manager, took off his own cap and held it over the Prime Minister's head, saying, "This is what you should be wearing, sir."

Kishi favored Lopez with a smile but hung onto his Yankee headgear.

It was Kishi's job to throw out the first ball, and he took it seriously, even warming up with a few tosses. Then he got off a low which was caught by one of his favorites, Yankee catcher Yogi Berra, and the game was on.

The Prime Minister considers Berra and his center-fielder teammate, Mickey Mantle, the greatest players alive.

Chinese Warn Reds To Fight For Armistice

U. N. Arms Buildup Declared Threat To Korean Peace

SEOUL, South Korea, June 23 (P)—A declaration that Red China and Communist North Korea would fight to defend the Korean armistice agreement came out of Peiping today.

The official People's Daily charged in an editorial broadcast by Radio Peiping that the United States "has seriously threatened the armistice agreement and peace in Asia" by sending new arms to strengthen the U. N. Command in South Korea.

The U. N. command notified the Communists Friday that modern weapons will be sent to South Korea to counter an armed buildup which it described as "repeated, willful, flagrant"—in Chinese — backed North Korea. The armistice agreement of 1953 barred the introduction of new weapons by either side.

A flight of swift F100 jet fighters is reported due in Monday to reinforce U. S. airpower helping to guard President Syngman Rhee's republic.

Counter Move By U. N.

"The United States," it warned, "must be responsible for all the consequences. The Korean-Chinese side would fight resolutely to defend the armistice agreement."

The U. N. command notified the Communists Friday that modern weapons will be sent to South Korea to counter an armed buildup which it described as "repeated, willful, flagrant"—in Chinese — backed North Korea. The armistice agreement of 1953 barred the introduction of new weapons by either side.

A flight of swift F100 jet fighters is reported due in Monday to reinforce U. S. airpower helping to guard President Syngman Rhee's republic.

Entire Pact Threatened

The broadcast People's Daily editorial declared the voiding of any part of the armistice agreement would affect the execution of other provisions.

"The Syngman Rhee clique is clamoring to take advantage of this opportunity to tear up the whole armistice agreement," it said.

The Red mouthpiece charged: "In U. S. strategic plans, South Korea, Taiwan (Formosa) and South Viet Nam have always been considered as three battlefronts or important bases for aggression against China."

Herter sounded a note of optimism when asked by Rep. Keating (R-NY), in a film TV discussion, about the big power disarmament talks now under way in London.

Hungarian Reds Meet Thursday

BUDAPEST, June 23 (P)—Hungary's Communists are meeting Thursday in their first national conference since the Russians crushed the fall revolt. It may mean trouble for Premier Janos Kadar.

There has been some conflict in recent weeks between partisans of Kadar, who rode into power behind Soviet tanks Nov. 4, and those who say they want a policy hewing even closer to the Moscow line.

It is not clear whether this has been settled.

However, ideology is certain to draw hours of discussion and, whatever his record over the past seven months, Kadar once was imprisoned as a "national Communist."

"National Communists" are men who rebel, in some degree, against Kremlin orders.

About 900 delegates are expected to meet Thursday in the Parliament building, headquarters of the Hungarian government, for a session lasting several days. Foreign reporters have been told they will not be admitted.

East Germans Vote

BERLIN, June 23 (P)—Communist East Germany marched its citizens to the polls today to vote a single ticket in the first local elections in seven years. About 13 million men and women over 18 were eligible to vote.

Red Acceptance Of Satisfactory Arms Plan Seen

WASHINGTON, June 23 (P)—Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter said today the Soviets now appear willing to agree to a disarmament inspection system that America "might find satisfactory."

Herter sounded a note of optimism when asked by Rep. Keating (R-NY), in a film TV discussion, about the big power disarmament talks now under way in London.

The undersecretary discounted claims that the Russians scored a big propaganda victory with their proposal for temporary suspension of atomic tests.

He said the Reds are now proposing part of what the United States has sought for some time, and "for the first time the Russians are not using them — disarmament talks — as a great propaganda vehicle without any particular substance."

"The key to it always has been trustworthy inspection, and it looks now as though the Russians are willing to agree to an inspection system that we might find satisfactory," Herter said. "And if so, I think it marks a very real advance."

Herter added that "one of the most encouraging things seems to be a recognition on both sides that a little step forward is better than nothing at all. And for the first time instead of grandiose propaganda schemes, it looks as though we are getting down to brass tacks and making headway bit by bit."

Runaway Train Rips Station, Injuring 100

BRISBANE, Australia, June 23 (P)—The Sydney-Brisbane express, its whistle blowing full blast and no brakes working, roared into Terminal Station today and ripped through the steel and concrete structure, injuring at least 100 persons, of whom 56 were treated at hospitals.

Sixteen remained in hospital beds.

The big diesel tore through the buffers at the end of the tracks and through a concrete wall before coming to rest with its nose over the edge of a 45-foot drop into one of Brisbane's principal streets.

Railroad officials said the trains brakes failed on the last mile of its 600-mile journey from Sydney.

Three Home For Aged Employees Die In Fire

CHICAGO, June 23 (P)—Three employees of a home for the aged suffocated in a fire today that swept their residence on the institution's grounds.

The dead were Ann Marlow, 26, Emma Tetke, 56, and James Hunter, 54, employed at the River Forest Health Resort and Hospital, Inc., in suburban Leyden Township.

Bus Plunges Over Cliff, Injuring 23

LEBANON, Ohio, June 23 (P)—A bus today rolled backwards some 200 feet on a Warren County road, then plunged over a cliff into a shallow creek 60 feet below, sending 23 passengers to Miami Valley Hospital in Dayton with minor injuries.

The driver, Bradley Johnson of South Lebanon, told police he was carrying the passengers home from church services at the Free Holiness Church of God, Rte. 1, Lebanon.

He stopped the bus at the top of a hill on Shawn Road, three miles southeast of here, to discharge a passenger. The motor failed at that point, and the bus started rolling backwards. The brakes wouldn't work, Johnson told police.

The bus rolled the length of the road and toppled over a cliff. It landed in a creek with two feet of water in it, Johnson said.

$5 Ton Steel Boost Forecast

CLEVELAND, June 23 (P)—The nation's steel mills are expected to boost prices by next week, when steelworkers get a wage increase, and many observers predict the price hike will mark the beginning of another round of inflation.

The magazine Steel, a weekly trade publication, predicted today the price rise will average $5 to $6 a ton of steel. Steelmakers have kept silent on what the increase, if any, will amount to.

The magazine said the wage increases, provided for in three-year contracts negotiated with the United Steel Workers last year, probably will come to 17.1 cents per man per hour. This would mean an increase of $10.26 a ton in steel production costs, Steel declared.

It would also mean that practically everything you buy will eventually cost more, some economists say.

The entire cost increase probably will not be passed along to steel consumers, Steel magazine said. For one thing, the wage boost cost this year will be somewhat lower than last year's increase, when the average base price of steel went up $8.50 a ton.

Youth, Girl Drown In Potomac River

WASHINGTON, June 23 (P)—Two persons were drowned in the Potomac River today, one being swept over Great Falls in the same treacherous spot where a canoeist went over the falls Saturday and survived.

The Great Falls victim, James Thomas, 19, of Alexandria, Va., disappeared in the churning waters as four young companions and several hundred picnickers looked on in horror.

The drowning victim was tentatively identified as a southeast Washington girl, Shirley Parker, 20.

Maneuver Seen Show Of Strength

PORT SAID, Egypt, June 23 (P)—Two Soviet destroyers and an auxiliary tanker steamed southward through the Suez Canal today. They were the first Russian warships to pass through the waterway since World War I.

Egyptian Canal Authority officials quoted the Russians as saying the vessels were heading from Sevastopol, on the Black Sea, to Vladivostok, in the Far East, and "may spend some time in the Red Sea."

Show Of Strength?

Speculation immediately arose whether the voyage was intended partly as a show of strength. The Red Sea is the locale of one of the more difficult problems in current international affairs. Egypt and her Arab allies are involved in a bitter dispute with Israel over freedom of entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba. Egypt and Saudi Arabia, whose territories overlook the spot claim the right to close the Tiran Strait entrance to Israeli shipping bound for the port of Eilat, at the head of the Gulf. Israel insists on free access.

The passage of the Soviet ships into the Red Sea is a part of current Soviet naval activity in Mideast waters. Thursday and Friday six Soviet warships, including the cruiser Mikhail Kutuzov, two destroyers and three torpedo boats, sailed through the Turkish straits into the Mediterranean. No one here knows whether the destroyers which went through the canal today are part of this force.

Israel Fears Blockade

The Russians recently sold and sent three submarines to Egypt and the Israelis expressed belief they might be used to enforce an Aqaba blockade.

Yesterday in London an Admiralty spokesman said the British navy was watching Soviet naval maneuvering in the Middle East with "much interest." Some diplomats in London said they considered the Soviets were putting on a show of naval force in retaliation for the visit to the Black Sea earlier this year of British warships. The Russians called this visit "an unfriendly act." In 1954 the Soviets sent ships into the Mediterranean area in reply to visits by American and British warships.

Balloon A-Test Blast Delayed

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., June 23 (P)—Unfavorable wind conditions today forced a 24-hour cancellation of an atomic explosion from a balloon.

The shot, fifth in the current nuclear test series, was rescheduled for 6:30 a.m. Monday.

Atomic Energy Commission representatives said the wind was blowing toward Indian Springs Air Force Base, about 25 miles south of the Frenchman Flat detonation site and 45 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

The shot was to be exploded from a balloon and was to be the first shot of the series above nominal — more than 20 kilotons or about as powerful as the bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

More than 850 military observers were on hand to watch the shot from trenches about 4,500 yards from ground zero.

Six Men Reach Safety After Boat Sinks In Bay

ELKTON, Md., June 23 (P)—Ald Melville, 44, and Earl Brazier of Upper Darby, Pa., Alfred E. Green of White Crystal Beach, Md., and John Stricker, an employee of the Diggins Detective Agency of Baltimore.

All of the men except Melville were picked up by the Sea Rogue, a cruiser piloted by 18-year-old Fred B. Franks III of Allentown, Pa. Franks was returning to his family's summer home at North East, Md., from Chesapeake City when he spotted a hand waving in the water.

Using a spotlight, he quickly picked up five men. Four of them had on life preservers and a fifth was clinging to an empty ice chest, he said.

Melville floated down the bay and finally reached shore at Turkey Point on the western shore of the Elk River.

Names of all the men who were thrown in the water were not available. But they included: Don-

Plane Turns Back To Land, Falls, Burns

Four Of 18 Aboard Canadian Aircraft Reportedly Survive

PORT HARDY, B. C., June 23 (P)—A Pacific Western Airlines DC3, trying to turn back after trouble on its takeoff, crashed and burst into flames here this afternoon. Twelve of the 15 passengers and 2 of the crew of 3 are believed to have perished.

Airline officials here refused to provide details. But an eyewitness, Mrs. H. Lennox whose home is near the airfield, said she saw the stewardess, Miss Pat Wilson, 23, of Vancouver, escape from the burning plane.

Nose "Hit Ground"

Mrs. Lennox said four passengers were rescued but one died a few minutes later.

The woman said the plane had appeared to be in difficulty right after its takeoff on its regular flight to Vancouver, B. C., and turned back to land.

"Its nose hit the ground and the plane turned over about halfway up the runway," Mrs. Lennox said.

Doctors Flown To Scene

The plane burst into flames, she said, adding, "it's a wonder that anyone got out alive."

Two Royal Canadian Air Force planes with doctors and flight nurses flew here from Vancouver. Port Hardy is 190 air miles northwest of Vancouver, on the extreme northern tip of Vancouver Island. It is about a two-hour flight between Port Hardy and Vancouver.

Circus Aerialist Plunges 30 Feet

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 23 (P)—A pretty 28-year-old Danish circus aerialist plunged 30 feet to the hard sawdust-covered floor of the Coliseum here today before 5,000 horrified persons.

Lili Kirstensen was rushed to Hospital where officials said she suffered a broken pelvis, fractures of the arm and ankle, some broken ribs and possible internal injuries. Her condition was described as good.

Her husband, Svend, said perspiration caused his wife to slip from his grasp as they were performing on the high trapeze over the center ring of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus during an afternoon performance.

The couple, known professionally as the Platons, was doing what is known as a bar and casting act. Mrs. Kristensen had just completed an aerial somersault with her 30-year-old husband as the catcher. Their hands, wet with perspiration, slipped and Mrs. Kristensen plunged to the floor, landing on her side.

Hardy County Exceeds Quota For Bloodmobile

104 Volunteer Walk-Ins Save Day

MOOREFIELD — Hardy County welcomed the American Red Cross Bloodmobile with open arms Friday and the Moore Home was the scene of continuous activity as 158 persons came in to make a donation of blood.

Chairman Loy High had only been successful in signing up 77 prospective donors before Friday and of these, only 54 appeared. However, 104 "walk-ins" saved the day for the local chapter and of the total appearing, only four were rejected for minor reasons.

A break-down of localities showed that 114 persons gave Moorefield as their address; 11 came from Wardsville; Needmore and Old Fields each sent 5; there were 3 from Rio, Rock Oak and Purgitsville; 2 each from Fehbus and Petersburg; and 1 each from Yellow Spring, Bergton, Va., Westminster, Md. and Fisher.

Several additions were added this time to the members of the Gallon Club — persons who have given at least a gallon of blood—many of whom are well on their way to their second gallon. The list at present consists of Mrs. Viola Wolfe, Mrs. Irvin Bowman, Mrs. Dalton Dasher, C. C. Hensen, Lem Pratt, Mrs. Clifton Funkhouser, Miss Larene Scott, Grover Charlton, Lory Ship (Mathias), Loy High, Mrs. Matie Ship (Mathias), John McNeill, Felix Poling and Mrs. Ted Sager.

Another interesting fact was that 59 persons gave blood this time who had never given before. Only 95 were repeaters.

Local workers, who helped at the Bloodmobile all day were Mrs. W. J. Teets and Mrs. R. E. Fisher, receptionists; Mrs. Irvin Bowman, Mrs. A. C. McNeill and Mrs. Howard Belt, registrars; Mrs. Ted Sager, juice; Mrs. Ashby Scea and Mrs. John Harman, bottles; Mrs. Ellis Hyer, Mrs. Ethel Bean and Mrs. Jim Tenny, canteen; Mrs. Thurmond Reynolds and Mrs. Joe Welton, registered nurses. These workers gave a total of 77 hours of volunteer service.

Two other persons gave noticeable service in bringing in donors. Bill Murphy personally brought in 13 persons and Asa Kline, Wardsville, brought 10 people with him early in the morning.

Amcelle Begins Production Of New Plastic

The manufacture of a new plastic, known as Forticel, has been started at the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation of America here.

Special chemical processing equipment made from corrosion resistant alloy metals has been installed at Amcelle with the expenditure being in excess of $100,000 for the machinery, according to R. Finley Thompson, plant manager.

In addition to the new machinery, many existing facilities of the sprawling plant on McMullen Highway are being utilized in the manufacture of Forticel.

Thompson said that it is possible that additional expansion will be made along with an increase of employment at the Amcelle plant depending upon market acceptance of the plastic and other local conditions.

The new plastic is cellulose propionate and Forticel is the trade name registered by Celanese for the new product.

Thompson described Celanese Forticel as a propionate thermoplastic which can be used in the automotive and instrument trade. In addition to toughness and high speed moldability, Forticel offers a combination of better dimensional stability and excellent surface lustre, he added.

There are 40 persons employed at present in the process work making Forticel.

Advertising Shows Gains In April

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—National advertising for the month of April showed substantial gains over the previous month, Printers' Ink magazine said today.

The magazine's national advertising index was up 2 per cent from the previous month and up 2 per cent from April, 1956.

Newspapers were unchanged from the previous month and off 1 per cent from a year ago. Network radio was up 3 per cent from the previous month and up 9 per cent from a year ago. Network television was unchanged from the previous month and up 5 per cent from a year ago.

In Britain's coinage, a pound is known colloquially as a "quid," a shilling as a "bob" and a penny as a "copper."

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Flattering Sun Glasses styling, their fashion and flattery value reaches new peaks. To receive your full return, choose sun specs that flatter your face and pick up your costume.

It may have been Nero who started the sun glass habit. He used an emerald to decrease glare as he watched the lions feast on his enemies in the arena. At any rate, sun glasses have since been mentioned throughout history.

With their present handsome

Fashion Accessory

This is no great task. Variety of shape and style provide enhancement for every face type. Low cost makes it possible to own several pairs. Exact information on frames that flatter is available to you in our free booklet, "Glasses that Adorn." For your copy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me c/o this paper.

To make a fashion accessory of your sun glasses, here are a few suggestions: For beige costumes worn with gold jewelry, demimour frames winged across the brow with gold metal are stunning.

Casual And Terrace Wear

Bright, monotone casuals and beachwear take to gay gingham-patterned and candy-striped frames. A pearly translucent rim run through with golden spider webs, is ideal for pearly pastels. To accompany straw cloth fashions, there are "stray" laminations. For any sun-fun occasion, the handsome specs with the wide-windowed temple pieces shut out glare from all sides. All this goes to prove that when you shop for sun glasses, you should come home with a lot of glamour as well as comfort & your package.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 23 (INS)—The third novel by the youthful French author, Francoise Sagan, "Those Without Shadows," is being offered to motion picture producers. Her first book "Bonjour Tristesse" belongs to Otto Preminger, and the second, "That Certain Smile," is the property of 20th Century-Fox.

Francoise just celebrated her 22nd birthday in Paris and has recovered most satisfactorily from her recent near fatal auto accident.

Her agent, Alan Bernheim, is here negotiating for the film rights on her third book, and he says he does not believe rumors that she is going to marry a French publisher.

Although Paul Newman is definitely out of "A Time To Love" (used to be "A Time To Die"), Ed Muller said it was too much of a problem to work out so she has abandoned the idea. She's had many, many offers because "Private Secretary" was one of the most successful shows on the air. I caught Ann as she was rehearsing for the first Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz hour long show.

She, Cesar Romero and Rudy Vallee are all in this first big introductory show.

"I'll tell you about my new series when it's definite," said Ann.

I also talked with Cesar, who just closed at the Dunes in Las Vegas in his first night club appearance, and he is worn out.

The society of make-up artists awarded one of their own, Perc Westmore, the honor of being the make-up artist who, over twenty-five years, has contributed the most to creation technique and the advancement of the art of make-up. The award was given him at the society's building in Hollywood, with four other make-up men receiving awards in various fields of make-up.

Perc has made up more stars than any other man or woman in our town. He has created more unique hair-dos and new faces, and was once called "the Rembrandt of the make-up world."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Virginia and Darryl Zanuck dined at La Rue with Tyrone Power on Darryl's first night home.

A mean sunburn keeps Marilyn Monroe from flying to London for the premiere of "The Prince and The Show Girl." She couldn't even wear a dress she is so badly burned.

The traveling Bob Hope gets here July 2nd for the fancy Hollywood premiere of "Beau James." He leaves next night with Dolores and the children for Paris. The preview audience howled over some of Bob's wisecracks in "B.J."

Rita Hayworth flies to Switzerland to see the ailing Aga Khan and to deliver his grandchild to him. Yasmin leaves Wednesday with her governess and Rita meets them in Paris. Her other child, Rebecca Welles, spends the summer with her father, Orson Welles, whom she barely knows.

Gracie Allen, George Burns and Mary Livingston ringsided at Jack Benny's opening at the Flamingo in Las Vegas. Edgar Bergen came from Reno, and Frances Bergen left right after the show to do a TV program. Looks like Jackson, Gisel MacKenzie and Chiquita and Johnson will break all Flamingo records.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

4. The Burdens Of Life

Life is not a perpetual picnic. The world is a workshop—a battlefield. Life's responsibilities must be faced courageously; there must be the bearing of the burdens of others; the sharing of sorrows, the gathering of stones from the paths of others.

5. The Accomplishments Of Life

Your life will be judged by its accomplishments. We must be doers, not dreamers. Everyday is wasted unless something is accomplished of self-improvement, spiritual experience, or definite gain to the Kingdom of God.

Sad Saga Of The Stickless Stamps

The Post Office Department, despite the withdrawal and destruction of 150 million of the gumless stamps it issued last Christmas season, is still receiving complaints from irate customers. Because of the large quantities involved it is likely postal officials will continue to receive complaints for many months. It was the installation of high speed presses by the Bureau of Printing and Engraving to cope with the Christmas rush that started the embarrassing episode. By the time it was discovered the gummed side of the stamps was sub-standard, 50,000 stamp packets had been shipped to post offices in all parts of the country.

When the error was called to the attention of Washington by outraged patrons of the postal service, postal inspectors began combing the nation to determine the "pattern of supply" of the defective stamps. No one knew how many had been issued, where they went, or what denominations they were. By the time postal inspectors succeeded in retrieving some of the stamps, complaints were pouring in.

If it were possible to pinpoint the costs to the taxpayers of this blunder, they no doubt would be considerable. In addition to the inefficiency and confusion created at the post offices where the stamps were distributed and the cost of the postal inspectors who covered more than 250 stations throughout the United States, the printing bureau has now installed "gum-testing" machines to insure against repetition. Even the Bureau of Standards, which established rigid standards of gum-coating, managed to involve itself in the bloop.

No criticism can be directed at the Post Office Department for a printing error, of course —although someone in the department could conceivably look at the stamps before they are rushed to post offices—but the standard bureaucratic method of correcting an error seems to be to compound it by adding still more unnecessary costs to the taxpayers.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Warren Court

In most cases in a court of law, there must be a loser and the loser and his friends are usually unhappy and often try to explain the decision by suggesting that the judges are stupid or corrupt. It is human nature to speak ill of those who have to sit in judgment. But when in a court, the United States is consistently the loser, the subject requires very profound consideration. Maybe the United States needs an American Supreme Court.

The long list of Communist cases had to be decided someday and it has for months been argued by Communists and anti-Communists how these cases would go. However, nobody quite anticipated that the Court would hold that FBI files could be made available to the counsel of defendants under any circumstances. The worst thing about this case is that it involves not so much Communists, who after all are more of a public nuisance than a personal menace, but kidnapers, forgers, bankruptcy frauds and all sorts of other criminals. And it involves the prospect of blackmail by unscrupulous lawyers.

Furthermore, when the United States Supreme Court hands down a decision, lawyers quote it in their own interest and it works its way as a precedent into state courts. I heard the other day of a fast-thinking lawyer who used the Jencks Decision in a State Labor Board hearing and got away with it.

After making it easier for kidnapers and other criminals, the Supreme Court, in effect, destroyed the Smith Act and got itself into the question of overturning a government by force and violence which requires quite a study of Marxist ideology and language. As I look over this Court, I would say that the only member of it who could be expected to have read the literature on the subject would be Justice Felix Frankfurter. The rest have never indicated a particular penchant for profound philosophic scholarship. I wonder how many of the brethren could undertake to debate whether a Communist does intend to overthrow the government by force and violence, citing the enormous literature on the subject, starting with the writings of Bakunin and Marx and Engels and concluding with the massive output of Mao Tse-tung and his believable boast that he had to kill 800,000 of his countrymen to make his revolution a success.

However, what the Supreme Court says on a subject is temporarily binding, until Congress passes legislation to correct judicial error or the Court reverses itself. Justice John Marshall was often beset by doubts, but he invariably resolved them in favor of the United States. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once wrote:

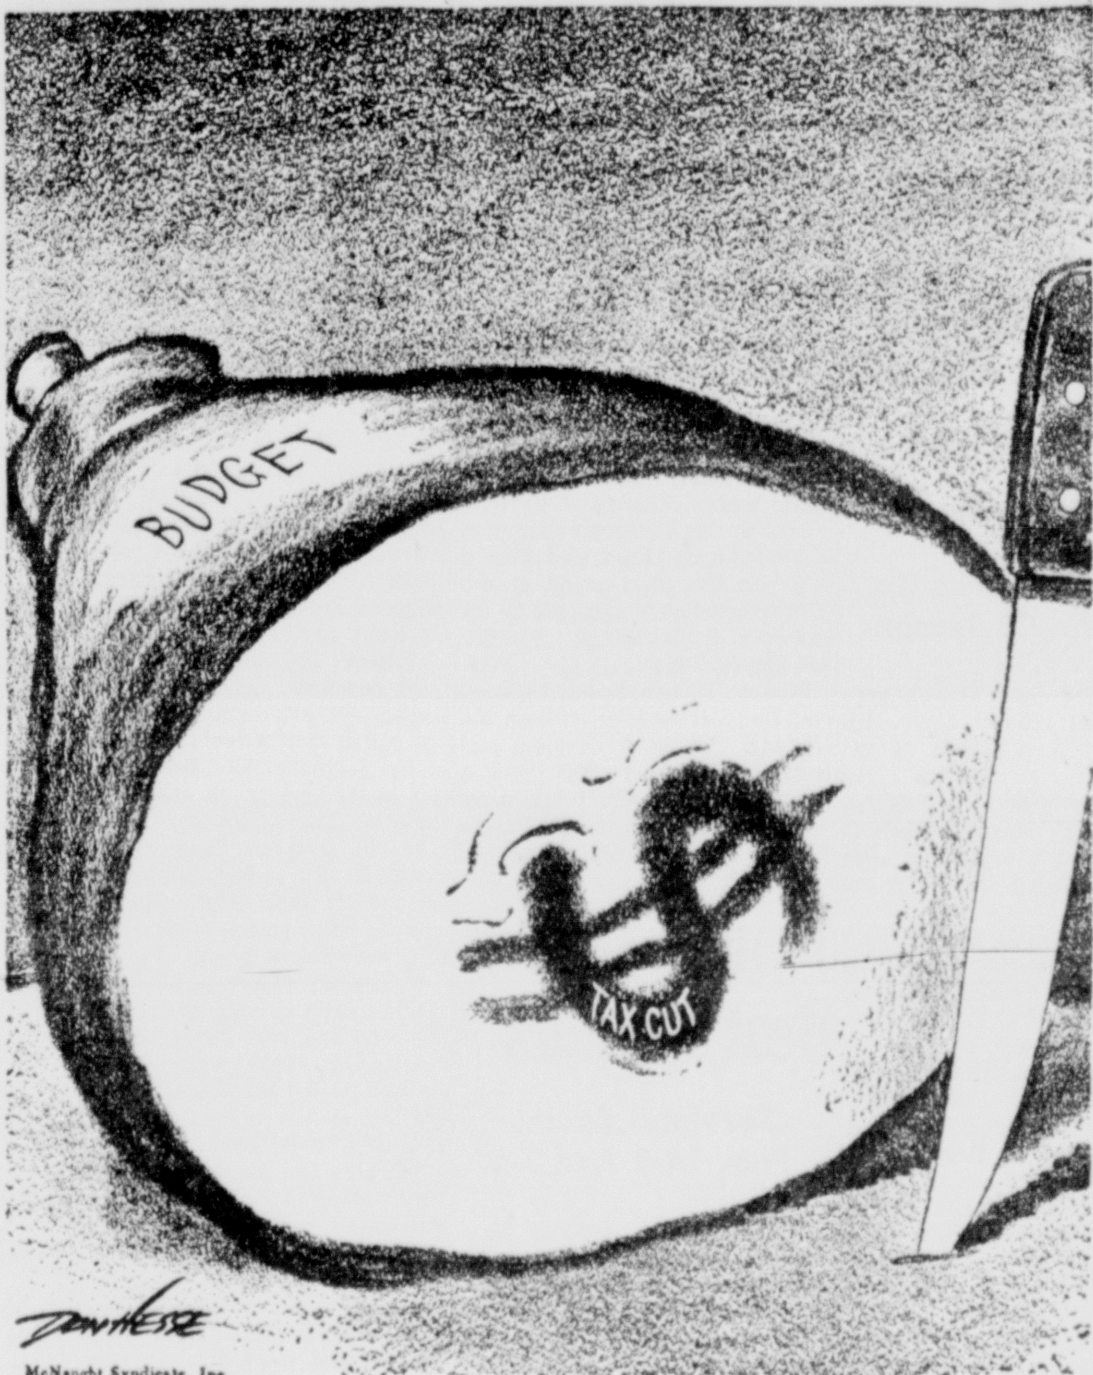

"When a question has been decided by the Court, I think it proper, as a general rule, that a dissenting judge, however strong his convictions may be, should thereafter accept the law from the majority and leave the remedy to the Legislature, if that body sees fit to interfere . . ."

That will, of course, be the view of sitting Federal and state judges who will take the position that the Supreme Court having decided that a man may engage in a conspiracy without being bound to describe the nature of the conspiracy by indicating who else was in it—that is law. I am not worried that this decision will let Marilyn Monroe's husband off the hook; I am concerned that Dioguardia's lawyers will come into court and kill the case against the acid throwers by maintaining that a man, pleading guilty, need speak only about himself, but not the whole truth when the truth requires him to name his colleagues in crime.

It is an interesting point of law arising from the fact that in the United States there is no distinct political crime and no separate political punishment. If a man commits a felony, it is a felony. The Court now holds that force and violence need to be accompanied by a blueprint as to how the force and violence are to be committed. Had anyone believed that the Court did not know about force and violence, he might have drawn up an enormous brief on the subject, citing only American sources. But it is unbelievable that none of the brethren on the Supreme Court bench ever read "Political Affairs," "Mainstream," the "National Guardian," the "Daily Worker" and similar publications of which there are many in this country.

How To Commit Treason And Get Away With It

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States has crippled the effectiveness of Congressional investigations.

By one sweeping decision the court has opened the way to Communists, traitors, disloyal citizens and crooks of all kinds—in business and in labor—to refuse to answer any questions which the witness arbitrarily decides for himself are not "pertinent" to a legislative purpose.

This means that every time a Senator or a Representative asks a question in an investigation the witness must be given a clear explanation of what the "legislative purpose" is and this may even have to be confirmed by a resolution adopted in each case by the Senate or the House. Then it may have to be passed upon in a decision by the Supreme Court before it is really valid.

This cumbersome procedure kills future investigations that seek to expose the ways and means by which the Communists infiltrate America. It kills any searching investigation or racketers in the labor-union movement, or any other kind of corruption. Had the Supreme Court's new "law" been in effect during the Harding Administration it would have killed off any exposure of the Teapot Dome scandals. Had it been rendered in 1950 Alger Hiss could have avoided answering questions asked by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, whose "charter" of authority held ever since 1938 now is torn to shreds by the Supreme Court.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, Senator Eastland of Mississippi, and the chairmen of various Investigating committees might as well shut up shop. The power to investigate has been curtailed drastically on the ground that Congress has to particularize in every case and specify in its resolutions exactly why it wants certain questions answered. It must somehow anticipate all the questions the investigating committees may wish to ask. This is, as Justice Clark, a former Attorney General, declared in his dissent, both "unnecessarily and unworkable." He added:

"The resulting restraint imposed on the committee system appears to cripple the system beyond workability."

This is because the Supreme Court has now set itself up as knowing more about what Congress needs to know to legislate than Congress itself thinks it does. In the words of Justice Clark:

"The majority (of the court) has substituted the judiciary as the grand inquisitor and supervisor of Congressional investigations. It has never been so."

All the justices, of course, are honorable men and conscientious in the pursuit of their duty. But for the most part they live in a legal vacuum. They display a curious unawareness of the actual operations of Communist subversion. To them, apparently, there is no Communist menace, no such thing as infiltration by stooges of the Communists, and if a man admits he has worked and "cooperated" with the Communists and then refuses to tell who else he met in such activities, this is construed now as a "right of silence" derived from the First Amendment which, now added to the Fifth Amendment, makes it easy for treason to be protected.

The Supreme Court majority realized, to be sure, the gravity of its decision and tried to soften the blow by minimizing the future danger. All the Congress has to do now, the court patronizingly suggests, is to take "added care" in authorizing the use of compulsory process. But, as Justice Clark realistically points out, the court doesn't say how this "added care" could be applied in practice.

The Supreme Court majority—Chief Justice Warren, Justices Frankfurter, Black, Douglas and Brennan—seemed to think that the desire of the individual to be spared any unpleasant publicity due to his past associations, was more sacred and more important than the right of Congress to get information about Communist plots and infiltration in order to pass laws to safeguard the nation against destruction. The ruling was proclaimed, too, by the court that anyone hereafter can teach and even advocate the forcible overthrow of the government of the United States, but unless there is conclusive proof that these teachings are part of a conspiracy to "incite" someone to some action, the viewpoint expressed is merely "abstract doctrine, and not subject to punishment by any law Congress might pass."

There were other significant cases decided by the Supreme Court on Monday, June 17, 1957, which will make that day a fateful one in American history. State legislatures were told that they, too, cannot investigate and require witnesses to answer their

Housefly A Remarkable But Dangerous Insect

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

this time the female lays 75 to 150 eggs every four days. At this rate, one female, laying 120 eggs on April 15, theoretically could be responsible for an astronomical number of progeny—5,598,- 720,000,000—by September 10.

Someone else calculated that the number of offspring in six months would be sufficient to cover the entire surface of the earth to a height of nearly six feet if all the eggs survived. Fortunately, many dry up or are consumed by other creatures.

The housefly is sturdier than it looks. Its flight muscles form more than 11 per cent of its total weight, which is a greater ratio than that of birds. If the insect flew straight and was refueled in flight with sugar, it might wing 100 miles. Its speed is comparable to that of a horse, which is 4 1/2 m.p.h.

The insect is hard to catch, not only because of its radar system but also the eyes on its head. The critter can fly sideways and land upside down on the ceiling.

The housefly's liking for beer or stout is of practical importance because these beverages can be added to poison baits to make them more attractive. There are racial differences among these insects. Swedish flies have thicker skin on their feet than do Swiss flies. The tender foot is easier to kill through spraying DDT on the walls.

The fertility of the fly makes its control difficult. Elimination by swatting or trapping is an

A portly old party spoke earnestly and lengthily at a high school graduation, and since a very small part of the audience was listening to him, the harm done was negligible. The principal, afraid that the distinguished guest's feelings might be hurt, buttered him up when the ceremony was concluded.

"I deeply enjoyed your account," he purred, "of how you climbed the ladder of success, rung by rung. I take it that you are now a very wealthy man."

"On the contrary," the speaker assured him. "I haven't got a bean. But can I climb ladders!"

Secretary Humphrey Kept Stock Despite His Powerful Position

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — For the first time in the four years he has been in office, the public has had a chance to look at the stocks owned by Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. They were inserted in the record last week by Senator Byrd of Virginia.

If you take the trouble to compare those stocks with the earnings of those stocks, they show an amazing income for the man who runs the nation's Treasury.

Secretary Humphrey owns 67,555 shares of common stock in the M. A. Hanna Co., founded by the famous Mark A. Hanna, the Ohio political boss who put President McKinley in office.

The financial report of the M. A. Hanna Co., issued for 1956, boasts of the best profits in its history. It was meant, of course, for the eyes of stockholders, not for the prying eyes of a Senate committee.

"The consolidated net profit for the M. A. Hanna Co. for 1956," says the annual report, "amounted to $19,491,884. This is an all-time record, exceeding by 25 per cent the 1955 record of $15,602,703. Dividends of $3 a share, paid on both classes of common stock, amounted to $9,274,176."

This $3 dividend, paid on Secretary Humphrey's 67,555 shares, means that he made $202,665 last year from M. A. Hanna stock alone. This does not include profits from the tremendous holdings he had in affiliated companies.

So the big question Senators want to ask is: Did Secretary Humphrey profit from his own fiscal policies and did he use undue influence to benefit his own companies while he occupied the most potent Cabinet post in government?

Refused To Sell

When he was up for Senate confirmation, Jan. 19, 1953, Senator Byrd asked him:

"The law says you shall not directly or indirectly be concerned or interested in carrying on the business of trade or commerce. . . . While you are Secretary of the Treasury will you engage in any business or trade or commerce personally, directly or indirectly?"

Mr. Humphrey: "I will engage in no business whatever personally or indirectly."

Sen. Byrd: "Will you attempt while you are Secretary of the Treasury to prosecute or to help forward or to continue or to carry on any of the businesses with which you have been identified?"

Mr. Humphrey: "I will not. I am completely out."

Sen. Byrd: "I think you have stated it with sufficient clarity but I want to make it clear again, you do not intend to influence any of these companies in any way in the conduct of their businesses while you are Secretary of the Treasury?"

Mr. Humphrey: "I will have no connection with the management of these businesses."

During this cross-examination, Humphrey refused to sell his stock. He argued that the law did not forbid him to own stock, and he cited his law firm as authority. One of these lawyers, Chapman Rose, was then made assistant Secretary of the Treasury, while his brother, Nelson Rose, was made counsel of the Treasury's Internal Revenue Service.

Humphrey's Business Thrives

As Humphrey stepped into the most powerful fiscal position in the world, he handed the reins of his company largely to his son Gilbert. He then became a director of the World Bank, the dominant figure on the Export-Import Bank, a director of the Foreign Trade Zones Board, and chairman of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Problems.

What he did affected not only the amount of taxes we pay, the collection of those taxes, and interest rates all over the United States, but it also affected whether certain countries received loans. In 1953, Brazil needed $300,000,000 from the Export-Import Bank. The State Department OK'd the loan, but the Treasury balked. When Brazilian Ambassador Walter Moreira Salles went to Treasury Assistant Randolph Burgess, Burgess stated bluntly:

"My boss doesn't like Brazil very much." Then he went on to tell how the Hanna Company had been negotiating for a manganese concession in Amapa in the northern Amazon but how Bethlehem Steel got the concession instead.

Thereafter Brazilian National Steel, 85 per cent owned by the Brazilian government, canceled a long-standing arrangement to buy coal through Eastern Fuel and Gas. It had been buying coal for about 10 years, was entirely satisfied with Eastern's coal. But it contracted for its high-volatile coal from Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal, a Hanna subsidiary, buying only low-volatile coal from Eastern. Thereafter, Brazilian National Steel borrowed an additional $35 million from the Export-Import Bank.

Secretary Humphrey, according to the Senate record, owns 20,000 shares of Pittsburgh Consolidation.

On January 1, 1953, when George Humphrey became Secretary of the Treasury, Pittsburgh Consolidation stock had a market value of $126,160,704. On March 12, 1957, it had a market value of $368,306,250. In other words, it had increased in value $242,145,546 during the period George Humphrey was Secretary of the Treasury.

The value of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal stock, as listed on Page 15 of the annual report of the Hanna Co., is $45.50 per share. At this figure, Secretary Humphrey's block of 20,000 shares, which he told Senators he had a right to keep, is now valued at $910,000.

Pittsburgh Consolidation also profited from another move which the Eisenhower administration did nothing to stop. It merged with Pocahontas Fuel, which produces a type of metallurgical coal necessary for steel production.

A merger between Pittsburgh Consolidation, the biggest coal company in the world, and Pocahontas, another giant, should have brought antitrust action from the Justice Department. None was taken.

The Justice Department moved against Secretary Wilson's former company, General Motors, in which he sold his stock, but did not move against Secretary Humphrey's company, in which he did not sell his stock.

A dominating factor in the sensational success of the musical show titled "The Bells Are Ringing" is the performance contributed to the piece by the highly versatile Sidney Chaplin. I knew his uncle whom he is named after very well. That Sidney Chaplin was an extremely clever fellow who never achieved the fame and fortune his talents called for. He starred in a feature comedy film titled "The Submarine Pirate." His success was so great that it worried his brother Charlie. So Charlie paid Sidney $75,000 a year to stay off the screen. Charlie wanted to be the only Chaplin in the limelight.

QUAINT FOOD

Who eats fried bees? How about fried grasshoppers? I noted both these items offered for sale in cans in a Madison Ave. food shop. Imagine a man coming home from the office after a difficult day's work and saying to his wife: "What's for dinner, darling?" And she answers, "Fried Bees." Other quaint types of food offered in this same shop are Rattlesnake Meat, Quail Eggs and Lily Bulbs in Syrup.

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. In what New York restaurant is the best chance to see the most celebrities? A. "Toots" Shor's. And you don't have to be a celebrity or a V.I.P. to get service there. "Toots" plays no favorites. . . . Q. So you keep on saying the husband should wear his wedding ring on his right hand. The etiquette experts say the left hand is correct. How about this? A. I repeat. Wearing a ring on the left hand is a sign of submission. Wearing one on the right hand is a sign of authority. The wife agrees to obey so her ring goes on the left hand and her husband's goes on the right. As for the etiquette experts, practically all of them are women and therefore prejudiced. They think if a man wears his wedding ring on his right hand he might take the matter of his authority too seriously and make things difficult for his wife.

ASIDES

How familiar are you with the works of Honore de Balzac? Ever read his highly interesting and instructive book titled "The Physiology of Marriage, A Book For Brides and Bridegrooms, Prospective and Veteran"? . . . In Midtown Manhattan can be seen more beautiful and well dressed women than in any section of any other city in the world. Not all wealthy women either. New York business girls are now said to spend 25 per cent of their weekly salaries on clothes.

PLEASE NOTE

Have you a fly swatter? How skillfully can you handle it? Better start practicing if any house flies harass you this summer. Also avoid any restaurant or food shop where you view even a few flies. Recent research indicates that the common house fly transmits about 30 different diseases. A check also revealed that the average housefly carries around about three and a half million bacteria.

PATENTS

According to the law only things that have "utility" can be patented. That is things that serve a useful purpose. It was this requirement that is said to have prevented the gambling machine known as the "One Arm Bandit" from being patented. However, I notice in the most recent list of patents granted one has been issued for a "horse handicapping slide rule." So, perhaps the powers that be are becoming a little more broad-minded in judging what serves a useful purpose.

Hyndman Boos As Lead, CCC Golfers Win Eighth Straight

Leydig Beats Wellersburg For 6th Win

Bags 11-4 Decision, Zihlman Wins, 4-3, Grabs Second Spot

PEN-MAR LEAGUE	W	L

Barrelville	7	6
Wellsburg	4	8
Flintstone	6	6

Jim Leydig became the winning pitcher in the Pen-Mar Baseball League yesterday when he notched No. 6 as the Hyndman Merchants trimmed Wellersburg at the latter place and increased his lead to four games in the eight-club circuit. The score was 11-4.

Leydig, who has not tasted defeat this season, yielded eleven hits but kept them well spaced. It was the second time that Leydig had beaten Wellersburg this season. The score of the first game was 7-3. Jim also has beaten Barrelville twice, Grantsville and Mt. Savage once each.

In addition to pitching a nice article of ball, Leydig batted two triples and a single. Pete Derem smacked a three-bagger and two singles and Clay Leydig smacked two hits, including a triple.

Jim Morgan paced the Wellersburg attack with three hits. Ronnie Neubiser slammed a double and single and Witt lapped a three-bagger.

The win was the fourth in a row for Manager Gene Stair's Merchants who have bagged 12 of 13 league games to date.

Zihlman Moves Up

Zihlman handed the skidding Mt. Savage Old Germans a 4-3 setback at Zihlman and took over sole possession of second place with an 8-5 record, four full games off the pace. The loss was the fourth in a row for Mt. Savage.

George Bishields and Wayne "Lefty" Fleegle, former Mt. Savage High School players, collaborated to beat the Old G's. Bishields received credit for the win but had help from Fleegle who came on in the 9th with two out and two aboard and struck out Roy Holt to end the game.

Joe Conroy with a double and single, "Chuck" Elrich with a pair of one-base raps and Jack Skidmore with a triple were Zihlman's leading hitters. Conroy turned in a leaping catch of a drive from the bat of Arch Lennox in the 8th frame. Lennox, Mt. Savage left fielder, snared bids for hits from the bats of Ricky Harris and Harold Hudson in the 3rd and 4th inning and Don Blank also robbed Harris of a hit in the ninth frame. Roy Holt collected three of the losers' 10 hits. Vince King smacked a double and single and Bobby Lennox and Tommy Lewis also had two hits each.

Oliver Scores For Reds

Centerville's Red moved into a tied for third place with Mt. Savage and Barrelville by downing the Barrelville Old Exports at Centerville by the score of 6-3 behind the five-hit pitching of Harry Oliver, property of the Phillies, former Pony Leaguer, home on a furlough from the army.

Oliver, a 6-foot-4, 200 pounder, struck out ten as Barrelville suffered its second defeat since many days. Since joining the army Oliver has been twirling for Fort Knox.

Manager Mel Nee accounted for three of the Reds' 10 hits. Dwight Rose obtained a pair and Dave Rose and Homer Rose connected for triples. George McGregor, who was relieved by Jesse Markley in the fifth, took the loss.

Farmers' Drop 12th

Flintstone's Farmers went down to defeat for the twelfth consecutive time this season at the hands of the Grantsville Sluggers in a 15-8 affair in Garrett County.

Danny Cullen, the first of four Grantsville pitchers, got credit for the win, his first of the season, while Bill Haberlein suffered his seventh consecutive loss.

Manager John Keister clouted a triple and three singles for a perfect day at the plate for the sluggers who were credited with 12 stolen bases. Jim Fletcher peled a homer in the first inning for Flintstone, Hillegas got three hits and Hudson and Bill Haberlein two each.

In Saturday games Grantsville beat Wellersburg 9-4, Centerville edged Mt. Savage 5-4, and Zihlman blanked Barrelville 7-0. Yesterday's results:

Flintstone	W	L
Zihlman	10	3
Centerville	5	7

Jim Busby's Homer Wins For Orioles

Ray Moore Victor Over Detroit, 5-4

BALTIMORE, June 23 (AP)—Jim Busby batted in two runs, including the tie-breaking run with a homer in the fifth inning, as the Baltimore Orioles came from behind to defeat the Detroit Tigers 5-4 today.

Ray Moore pitched his third victory against five losses, giving up six hits. Two walks, a ground rule double by Charlie Maxwell and a two-run single by Al Kaline accounted for three Tiger runs in the third inning.

The Orioles bounced back for four runs in their half of the inning and the rally was ignited by Moore's double with one out. Billy Gardner and Bob Boyd followed with singles for one run and Busby's double scored another.

Don Lee relieved starter Billy Hoelt at this point and after getting the second out he gave up a two-run single to George Kell. Detroit tied the score at 4-4 in the fourth on singles by Dave Philley and Steve Boros, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice.

Braves Move Up After Dual Win

Top Phils, 7-6, 7-3, Grab Second Place

MILWAUKEE, June 23 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today moved back into second place in the National League, one game behind the St. Louis Cardinals, by sweeping a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-6 and 7-3, before a crowd of 36,037.

The sweep ended a three-game losing streak for the Braves, but it was a costly one. Joe Adcock, slugging first baseman, suffered a fractured right leg in the second game and was sidelined for six to eight weeks. He had returned to action only today after being out a week with a knee injury.

Henry Aaron's ninth inning single off Robin Roberts in the first game broke a 6-6 tie and gave Bob Buhl his eighth triumph against two defeats. Billy Bruton was the Braves' big gun in the nightcap, driving in three runs with a triple, a double and a sacrifice fly to give Taylor Phillips his third victory against two setbacks.

LaPalme Rescues Donovan, Chicago Stops Yankees, 4-3

Mantle's 3-Run Belt In Ninth Adds Thrill; Pierce Defeated, 9-2

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—Knuckelbalt pitcher Paul LaPalme saved Dick Donovan after a three-run homer by Mickey Mantle in the ninth inning today as Chicago broke the New York Yankees' 10-game winning streak, 4-3, in the second game. New York had won the opener, 9-2, behind Bobby Shantz with a 16-hit barrage.

The split, witnessed by the season's largest baseball crowd, 67,787 including Prime Minister Kishi of Japan, left the Yankees one game ahead of the Sox in the tight American League race.

Donovan pitched a brilliant three-hit shutout for eight innings until his defense failed him in the ninth. Bobby Richardson beat out a hit to deep short and Minnie Minoso and Sam Esposito left G. McDougald's easy pop fly fall safely for a single.

With a one-strike count, Mantle then slammed his 21st home run into the third deck in right field, leaving Donovan with only a one-run lead.

Manager Al Lopez called for LaPalme who had worked in relief yesterday and in today's first game. Pinch hitter Hank Bauer beat out a single to third base. Then Bubba Phillips fumbled Bill Skowron's grounder for an error. The Yanks had men on first and second with nobody out.

LaPalme came through in brilliant style. The lefthander struck out Yogi Berra, got Elston Howard on a pop to Esposito and struck out pinch hitter Darrell Johnson.

Travel Council To Seek Data On State Roads

Groups Convene In Garrett Co.

Directors of the Maryland Travel Council last night voted to join with the Maryland Motor Court Association in asking a meeting with the Maryland State Roads Commission to learn plans and policies for interstate roads.

The organizations, which represent those who serve Maryland's tourist industry, want to know which of the new roads will be limited access, which will be denied access, and policy toward new businesses on the routes which would, in effect, throttle existing businesses.

The Travel Council officials were briefed by J. L. Towler, city, on the campaign to have Route 40, Hancock to Washington, Pa., placed in the Interstate System, and on current plans for the C&O Canal Parkway.

First Garrett Meeting

Leaders of the Travel Council met last night with the Maryland Council of Chambers of Commerce for their first meetings in Garrett County.

The joint conference began early last night with a hospitality hour at the Mountain Lake Park Hotel.

Host was the Garrett County-Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, represented by Helmuth M. Heise, president, and Robert Rudy and Asa Staunton.

A joint dinner, with Earle R. Poorbaugh, director of the State Department of Information and executive director of the Maryland Travel Council, as toastmaster.

The councils split up for business sessions following the dinner.

Workshop Set Today

The organizations will hold a joint meeting today at 10 a. m. at the Swallow Falls recreation area.

Some 100 members of the councils and their wives are expected to attend the workshop on travel at Swallow Falls, which contains the only virgin Hemlock forest in the Eastern United States.

The meeting will feature an address on "Attracting tourists to the nation's capital" by James Harte, Washington.

Mr. Harte is public relations director of the Greater National Capital committee of the Washington Board of Trade.

Attend Conference

In the Travel Council delegation were Ed Hearn, business manager of the Salisbury Times; Edward Markley, public relations director of National Trailways; William Schmidt, B&O public relations director.

Paul McAuliffe, manager, Francis Scott Key Hotel, Frederick; J. L. Towler, manager, Allegany Inn Hotel here; Mrs. Mabel Whitlock, Elkton; Lloyd C. Strickland, Elkridge, president of the Maryland Motor Court Association, and Harry Wainright, president of the Travel Council.

The Chamber of Commerce executives decided to hold their next meeting in Westminster September 16.

Radio Hams Have Busy Field Day

Radio hams of this area headed back to Cumberland yesterday after contacting some 60 stations set up throughout the country for the annual Field Day exercises.

During the 24-hour test of communications equipment operating under simulated emergency conditions and using emergency power supplies, the Mountain Amateur Radio Club contacted similar radio hams in 24 states who had set up similar field equipment.

The local club, headed by John B. White, president, drove to Martin's Hill in nearby Pennsylvania Saturday afternoon to set up its field station.

Within an hour after the dozen amateur radio operators reached the scene, they had established a camp, set up an antenna and were ready to operate their station with power supplied from a gas driven generator.

Messages were brief, since the point of the field day was to test mobile equipment which could be set up throughout the country by amateurs to maintain communications in case of disaster.

Members reported the American Radio Relay League sponsored test was quite successful, both as a radio equipment test and as an overnight outing.

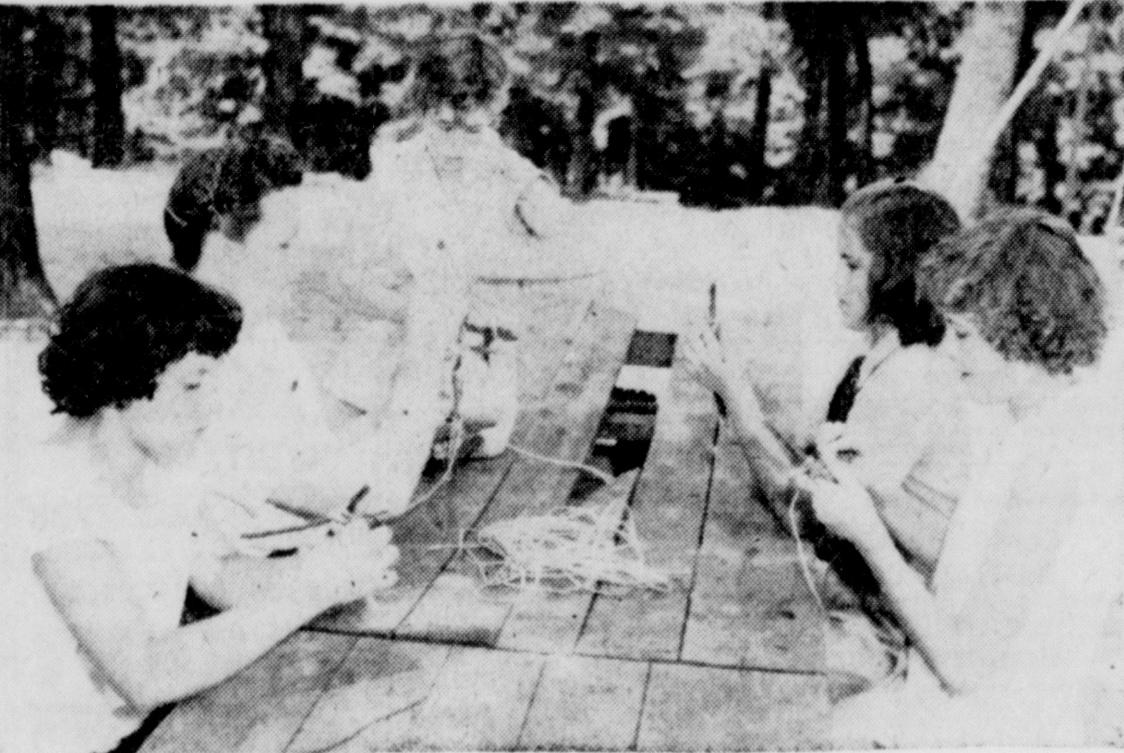

The local club received a Civil Defense citation for its work during Hurricane Hazel.

Large Crowd Attends Outdoor Park Concert

The largest crowd of the season attended the third outdoor concert of the Cumberland Municipal Band last night in Constitution Park.

A spokesman said between 1,000 and 1,200 persons attended last night's program under the direction of W. Valgene Routh, supervisor of music education for Allegany County public schools.

The next concert scheduled at the park will be on Sunday, July 7.

Scouts Busy At Day Camp

These three photos show some of the activities at the annual Girl Scout Day Camp in Constitution Park, which enters its second and final week today. In the top picture, a group of girls are getting instructions in lashing as they work on their 5-Star Camper Award. Clockwise around the table are Brenda Stuby, Mrs. Edward Milbrada, instructor for Unit V; Kay Atwell, Jane Zimowski and Judy Channell. Upper left is a group of girls with Mrs. E. T. Beachley, counselor, working on their Adventurer Merit Badge. In the lower photo, Miss Mary Walsh, librarian of Cumberland Free Public Library, is shown at the story-hour. The girls look forward to the annual visit by Miss Walsh. There were 114 girls participating in the Day Camp last week, and a similar number is registered for this week. Those participating last week gave a presentation for parents on Friday under the direction of Mrs. William Lawrence. The group presented a music and drama skit entitled, "The Gypsy's Life." Twenty girls completed work and were presented the Adventurer Badge, and practically all the girls received a 5-Star Camper badge for proficiency in cooking, camp craft, lashing, handling tools, and nature study. Sixteen Girl Scouts were awarded the Red Cross Beginners Swimming honor; and eight girls completed the intermediate requirements in swimming and life saving. Red Cross instructor is Mrs. Helen McGuire. Day Camp director is Mrs. William Claus. According to Miss Olive Hurlburt, scout executive, Day Camp becomes more popular each year. She also noted that established camp at the Scout's new campsite near Flintstone opens the season on July 7.

AAA Official Cites Road Law Lack

Washington I. Cleveland, an official of the Suburban Maryland Advisory Board of the American Automobile Association, has accused the Maryland Legislature of failing to enact legislation to promote traffic safety.

In a speech recently to the Silver Spring Civitan Club, Mr. Cleveland pointed out that traffic deaths in Maryland to date total 18 more than for the same period last year. In contrast, he said that traffic deaths in the District of Columbia, Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania, were far less than the figure for the same period last year.

He said increased water demands in Washington and expanding use of water for industry and irrigation upstream dictate the construction of an impounding system to hold back flood waters and make water available in times of drought.

He said the Savage River Dam, which cost six and a quarter million dollars to build five years ago has already saved an estimated six and one half million dollars.

During Hurricane Hazel, Col. Adams said, the big dam in Western Maryland held back water and saved about $5,000,000 in flood damage.

The former Washington District engineer for the Corps of Engineers said the first reservoir should be built above Great Falls at River Bend, which he termed the key to the whole situation.

The AAA spokesman promised the association will be at the next session of the General Assembly to continue its fight in the promotion of traffic safety legislation for Maryland.

To Attend School

Miss Marlene Brings, RFD 1, city, has been accepted by the University of New Hampshire's Summer Youth Music School, August 11-24. Miss Brings will major in chorus and band.

Today's Sermonette

Today's Sermonette is a digest of a sermon preached by Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The High Value Of Life

By CAPT. DANIEL BIGGS

Many striking figures of speech are used, both in the Scripture and out of it to describe life. Job of old said, "Oh, remember that my life is wind." "My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle." James in the New Testament describes life as a vapor that appeareth for a moment and vanisheth away. The Apostle Paul speaks of it as a fight, a wrestle, and a race. Jesus spoke of it as a road and used the figure, "I am the Way."

Words such as these can be multiplied and from them we draw three conclusions: Its brevity, its uncertainty, its responsibility. In view of these three facts how important that we place a correct value upon Life.

Life is, to a very large extent, what we make it. On the poet Gay's tomb in Westminster Abbey are the words: Life is a jest and all things show it. I thought so once, but now I know it.

That is one man's estimate of life. On the other hand, Longfellow said: "Life is real, life is earnest," and "the grave is not its goal."

Another writer has expressed it thus:

Two Local Men Reappointed To Forestry Board

Blair Welch Resigns; Vacancies Remain

Charles L. Kopp and Arthur Weber, city, have been reappointed to the Allegany County Forestry Board for three-year terms.

Chairman of the Board is Arthur P. Hoffa, of Barton, who was reappointed last year, according to William H. Johnson, district forester, who said two vacancies exist.

Blair Welch, of LaVale, who has been a member since the Board was formed in 1946, declined to serve another term. Each county in the state has a similar board, Mr. Johnson pointed out.

Notice of the reappointments were received at Mr. Johnson's office from H. C. Buckingham, state forester. The boards come under the jurisdiction of the Department of Forests and Parks.

Among the duties of the board are to promote private forestry by assisting land owners in forest management, the planting of trees, the conservation and development of tree crops and the protection of forests from fires, insects and diseases.

It makes available to landowners the services of a district forester and advises them with regard to their forest and tree crop problems.

The board also assists county assessors in their appraisal of growth of forest land for tax purposes and disseminates forest conservation information and collects data relative to the forest conservation problems of the state.

AFL Meeting Set

The Allegany Trades Council will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Midland Man Is Hurt In Auto Crash

Two Other Accident Victims In Hospital

A 24-year-old Midland man was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon with fractures of both knees after his car collided with another vehicle about 12:30 p.m. on State Route 36 at Wright's Crossing.

Ellsworth Kitzmiller was taken to Miners Hospital in Frostburg following the two-car collision and then transferred to Memorial Hospital in Cumberland where his condition was reported as "good."

State Trooper Joseph V. Stakem investigated the mishap and said Kitzmiller's car crashed into the rear of another automobile driven by Edward Robert Capel, 17, of RFD 1, Frostburg, as the latter attempted a left turn off the highway. Both vehicles were traveling north on Route 36 at the time the trooper stated.

Probe Continues

Meanwhile, West Virginia State Police at Moorefield are continuing their investigation of a two-car accident which injured three persons about 10:45 p.m. Saturday on U.S. Route 220, two miles south of Moorefield.

Leroy Westfall, 23, of Ruddle, W. Va., was admitted to Memorial Hospital here with shoulder and back injuries. X-rays are to be taken today and his condition is listed "good" at the hospital.

Also hurt in the accident were Edward Propst, Petersburg, who was treated at Petersburg Clinic, and Sue Hinkle, about 17, of Petersburg, a passenger in Propst's car.

Cpl. C. G. Hamrick of the Moorefield detachment of the state police said his investigation of the collision was incomplete as he had been unable to confer with any of the three injured persons. He said he thought Propst was driving one vehicle and Westfall the other and the two cars hit head-on.

Injuries to Miss Hinkle and Propst were undetermined last night.

Mrs. Wilma Matthey, 51, of Louisville, Ky., was admitted to Memorial Hospital Saturday night following a two-car accident on U. S. Route 50 near Romney.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. Matthey was admitted with injuries to her knee and left leg. She was in "good" condition last night.

Daughters Treated

Also treated at the hospital Saturday night were Mrs. Matthey's two daughters, Miss Tony Matthey, 18, and Miss Leona Matthey, 15. The former sustained lacerations of the scalp while Leona had facial injuries.

Trooper Charles Dorsey of the West Virginia State Police detachment at Romney said the accident occurred as Carl E. Cunningham, Cresapton, was traveling west on the highway and attempted to pass another vehicle. Cunningham's car crashed head-on into the Matthey car which was traveling east, he said.

City Police Probe Series Of Thefts

Also being investigated is a series of clothing thefts reported at the locker rooms of the Constitution Park swimming pool.

Births

Salisbury, Pa. Doctor Donates Scholarship

A Salisbury, Pa., medical doctor and his wife have donated more than $2,000 to Hood College in Frederick for the establishment of an endowed scholarship with the proceeds from a judgment in a successful suit for slander.

The Hood College News Service announced the gift in the following terms:

"The scholarship was made possible by an initial gift of over $2,000 by Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Solosko of Grant Street, Salisbury, the income of which will be awarded to a political science student who has shown the clearest understanding of American democracy and ideals.

"In August of 1953 Dr. Solosko, in order to protect his reputation and family, filed a suit for slander against one of the members of his neighboring community. The original judgment awarded by the jury of $10,000 was lowered by the court, with the consent of Dr. Solosko, to $3,500. Their decision to award the proceeds from the suit to Hood College was made in an endeavor to foster a better understanding of democracy.

"Mrs. Solosko, the former Miss Evelyn Harding, attended Hood College from 1930-32. Their daughter, Sonya, is a junior at Hood where she is majoring in English with political science as a related subject.

"The Soloskos hope in the future to increase the amount of their endowment which will carry the name 'The Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Solosko Scholarship.'

Through this gift Dr. Solosko has carried out a promise he made in 1953 during the court trial.

"I was never in this case for financial gain since I had told my attorneys that in the event I received a favorable verdict with any sum of money, the money should go to charitable institutions," Dr. Solosko said in 1953. "I was in it for principle only."

After legal expenses were deducted from the $3,500 paid Dr. Solosko some $2,105.35 was left, which was given to Hood College.

Johnson Attends Kiwanis Convention

William H. Johnson, president of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, his wife and their two sons are attending the 42d annual convention of Kiwanis International in Atlantic City from yesterday through Thursday.

They will join 15,000 other Kiwanians and their wives. Among speakers at the five-day meeting, in addition to Kiwanis International President Reed C. Culp, will be Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the United States; James S. Dunne, past president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church in Washington.

City Playgrounds Begin Nine-Week Season Today

Registration for a nine-week playground season will begin this morning at 15 play centers operated by the City Recreation Department.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, general supervisor, said children will register at West Side, North End, Gephart, East Side, Penn Avenue and Post playgrounds beginning at 9 a.m.

Leaders at the other nine grounds will begin registering at 10 a.m.

Heavy equipment was placed on the play centers some time ago, Mrs. Hogan said, and light equipment will be distributed this morning as the children are registering.

Operating the play centers will be a 25-member staff which last week received instruction on the program at the annual playground leaders institute.

Virtually all of the popular activities in past years have been retained and one new sport, basketball, added.

The schedule for each ground will be posted by playground leaders, who have worked out programs suited to conditions found at each lot.

A typical program will be offered at North End Playground, which opens at 9 a.m. with registration which continues all this week.

Children there will also be asked to register for the Learn-To-Swim program at the Constitution Park pool and for the talent show which will be held on the ground.

Other events scheduled this week at North End will include a sub-teen dance Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., followed by a teen dance at 9 p.m.

A picnic will be held Thursday, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Children will be asked to bring their own lunches and a hot dog and marshmallow roast will be held.

Friday's activities include a stuffed animal show at 7 p.m. and a movie at 8:30 p.m.

Wilda Winterburg is director and Mike Wilson is leader at North End Playground this year.

Police Are Alerted For Escaped Pair

State and city police have been alerted to be on the lookout for two men who escaped from Fayette County Jail in Uniontown, Pa., yesterday.

The pair, both trustees who walked away from the jail, are Ronald Hall, 18, five feet-six, 147 pounds, sandy hair and blue eyes, wearing a red shirt and blue jeans; and Paul Plichta, 27, five feet-eight, slender, fair, curly brown hair and hazel eyes, wearing white tee-shirt and blue jeans. Plichta has a tattoo, "Lillian" on his right arm.

The two are believed headed toward Maryland.

Surrenders To Police

Billy Eugene Davis, 20, of 633 Elm Street, surrendered yesterday afternoon to City Police at Police Headquarters and is being held in City Jail on a warrant charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl. He will be given a hearing today in Juvenile Court.

Sen. See Calls Meeting Of Study Unit

State Senator Charles M. See has called a meeting Wednesday in Baltimore of a committee named by the Legislative Council to study the advisability of setting up a new board to govern juvenile institutions operated by Maryland.

He said the committee will meet at 8 p.m. in Baltimore City Hall to organize and to map plans for its activities.

The Allegany County senator was named chairman of the study group, created as a result of Senate Resolution 37, which he sponsored in the 1957 General Assembly.

Senator See said the institutions, the Maryland Training School, Montrose School for Girls, Boys Village, Barrett School for Girls and three forestry camps in Western Maryland are now under the supervision of the Department of Welfare.

He said he believes they should be under the direction of a separate board which could make studies and "find the answer" to the problems faced by the institutions.

The committee, he said, will probably visit each of the juvenile units during the study.

Baltimore St. Gets Planing

Most of Baltimore Street was scraped smooth yesterday as city crews teamed up with equipment furnished by the Universal Road Planer Corporation.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said C. R. Nuzum was inspector on the job which got underway at 7 a.m. The commissioner took over supervision later in the afternoon.

Mr. Buchholtz said the street was "as smooth as I ever was" when the job was completed shortly after 5 p.m.

He said today's schedule calls for the rehabilitation of Dexter Place and North Centre Street to Frederick Street.

North Mechanic Street work will be held in Cumberland while the mid-winter meeting will be in Salisbury.

Other new officers include: Milton Moore, Salisbury, first vice president; Gerald Nuzzolo, Catonsville, second vice president; Lawrence Nelson, Brunswick, prelate; Paul Snyder, Edgemere, treasurer, and Samuel Canatello, Baltimore, secretary.

Engineer Cites Savage River Dam Benefits

Benefits of the Savage River Dam were cited by Col. Ray Adams, chief of staff of Fort Belvoir, Va., in a television interview in Washington over the weekend.

He said increased water demands in Washington and expanding use of water for industry and irrigation upstream dictate the construction of an impounding system to hold back flood waters and make water available in times of drought.

He said the Savage River Dam, which cost six and a quarter million dollars to build five years ago has already saved an estimated six and one half million dollars.

During Hurricane Hazel, Col. Adams said, the big dam in Western Maryland held back water and saved about $5,000,000 in flood damage.

The former Washington District engineer for the Corps of Engineers said the first reservoir should be built above Great Falls at River Bend, which he termed the key to the whole situation.
